

The Economic Contribution of Older Alaskans

December 2025

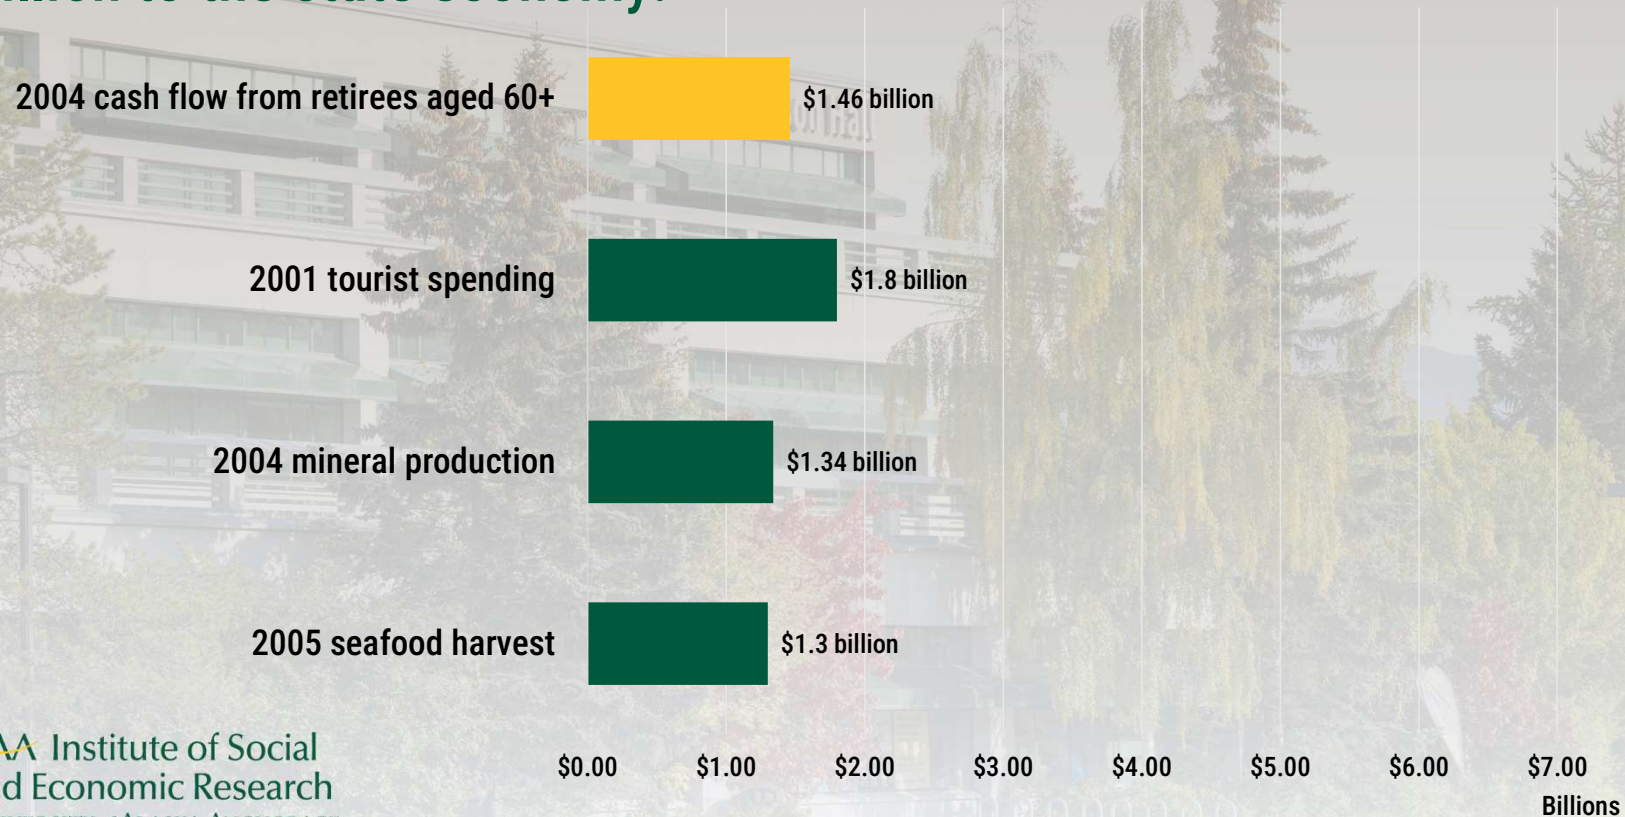

Spencer Perry

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

The Economic Contribution of Older Alaskans

- A 2004 ISER report found that retirees aged 60+ contributed roughly $1.46 billion to the state economy.

The Economic Contribution of Older Alaskans

- Using an updated methodology, we estimate that number grew to roughly $6.7 billion in 2023.

2023 cash flow from retirees aged 60+

$6.7 billion

2023 tourist spending

$4.37 billion

2024 mineral production

$4.0 billion

2022-2023 average seafood harvest

$1.83 billion

$0.00 $1.00 $2.00 $3.00 $4.00 $5.00 $6.00 $7.00
Billions

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

This Contribution Will Continue to Grow

Number of Alaskans 65 and Older

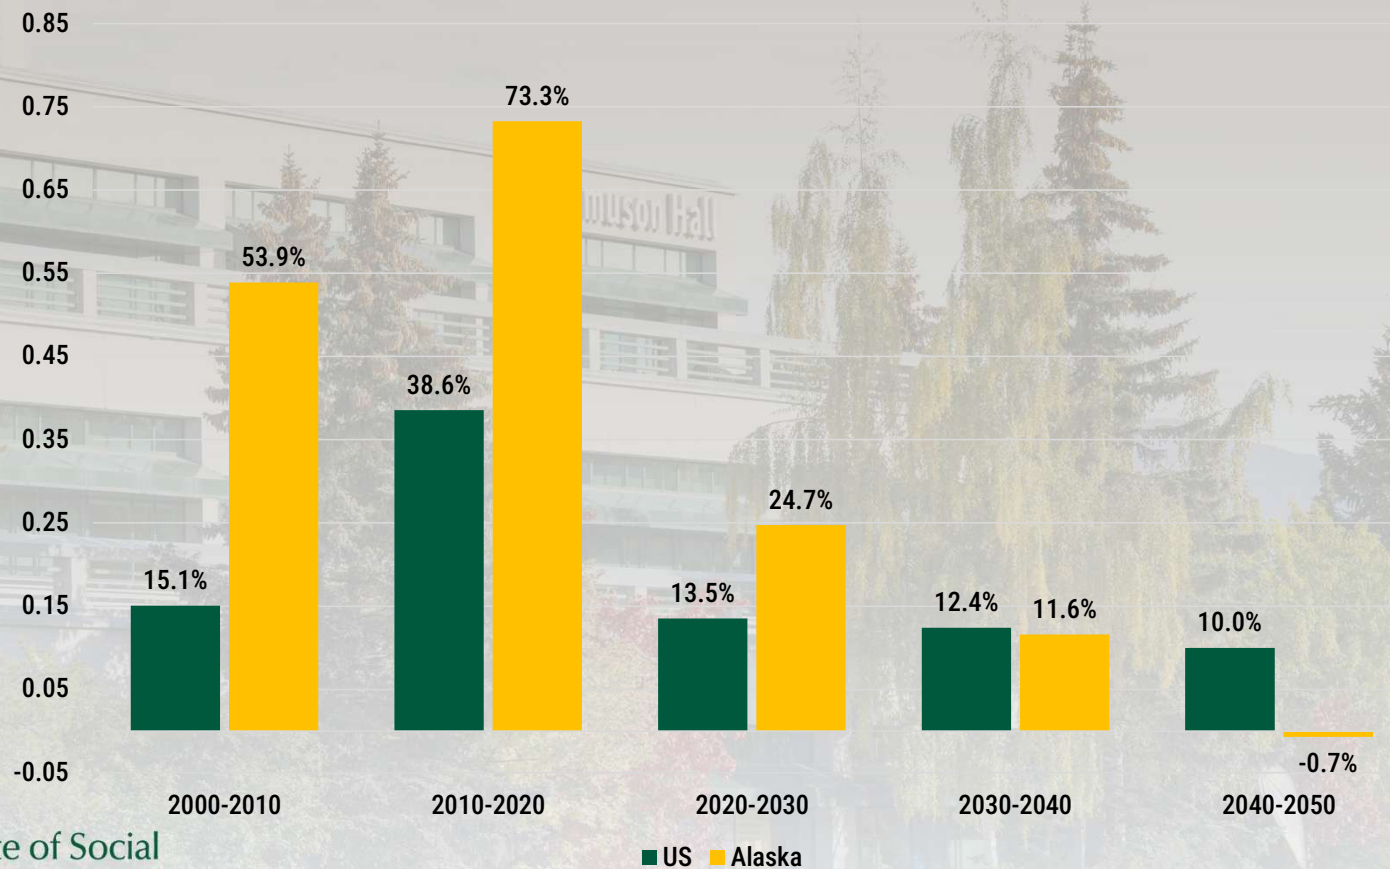

Notes: Percentages reflect share of population aged 65+ in each year.
Source: U.S. Census Bureau and Alaska Department of Labor

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

This Contribution Will Continue to Grow

Historical and Projected Growth, People 65 and Older, Alaska and U.S.

Source: U.S. Census Bureau and Alaska Department of Labor

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

This Contribution Will Continue to Grow

Income of Retirees Aged 60+

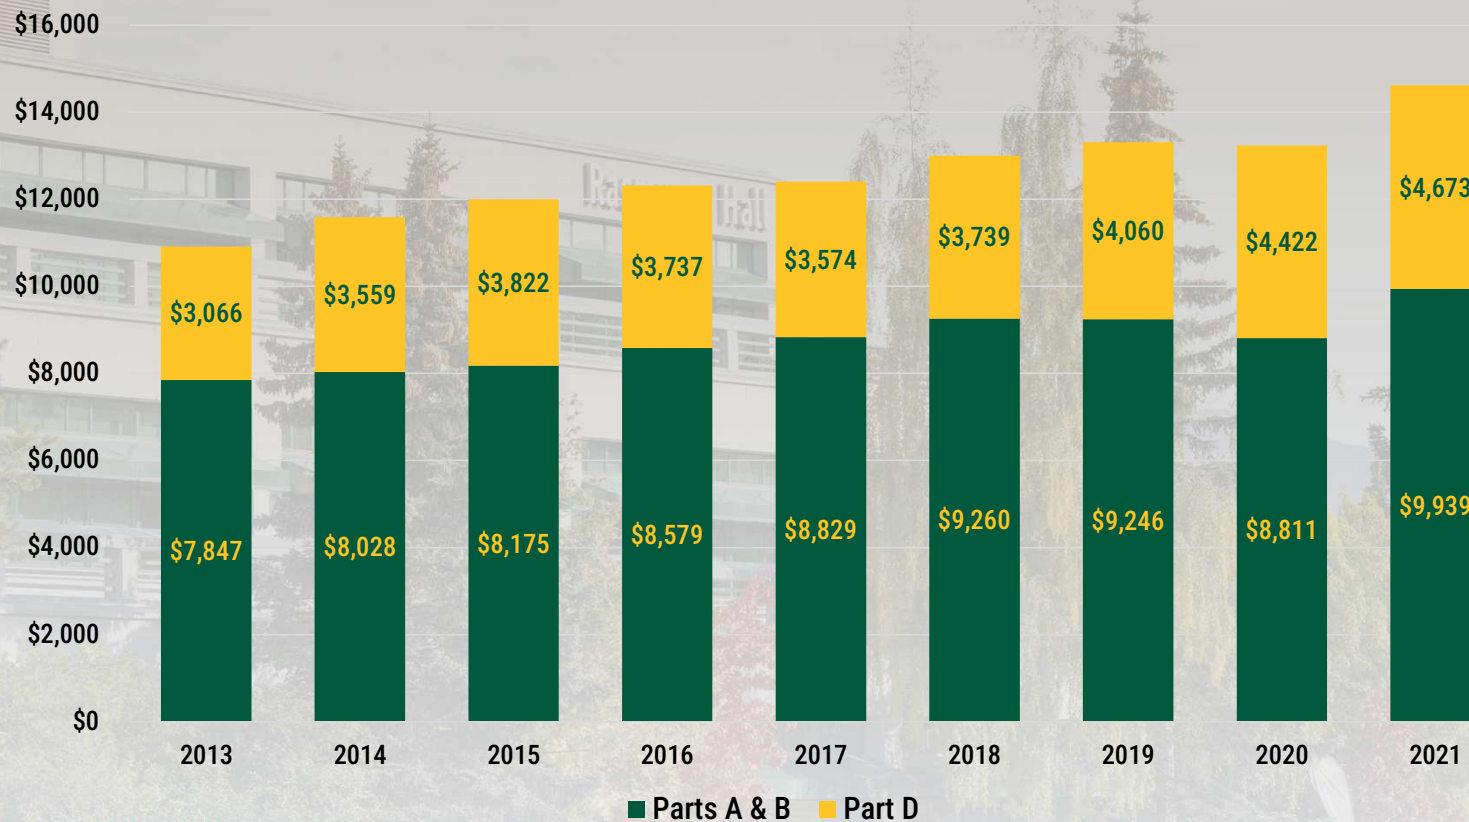

Source: U.S. Census Bureau

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

This Contribution Will Continue to Grow

Traditional Medicare Spending Per Enrollee

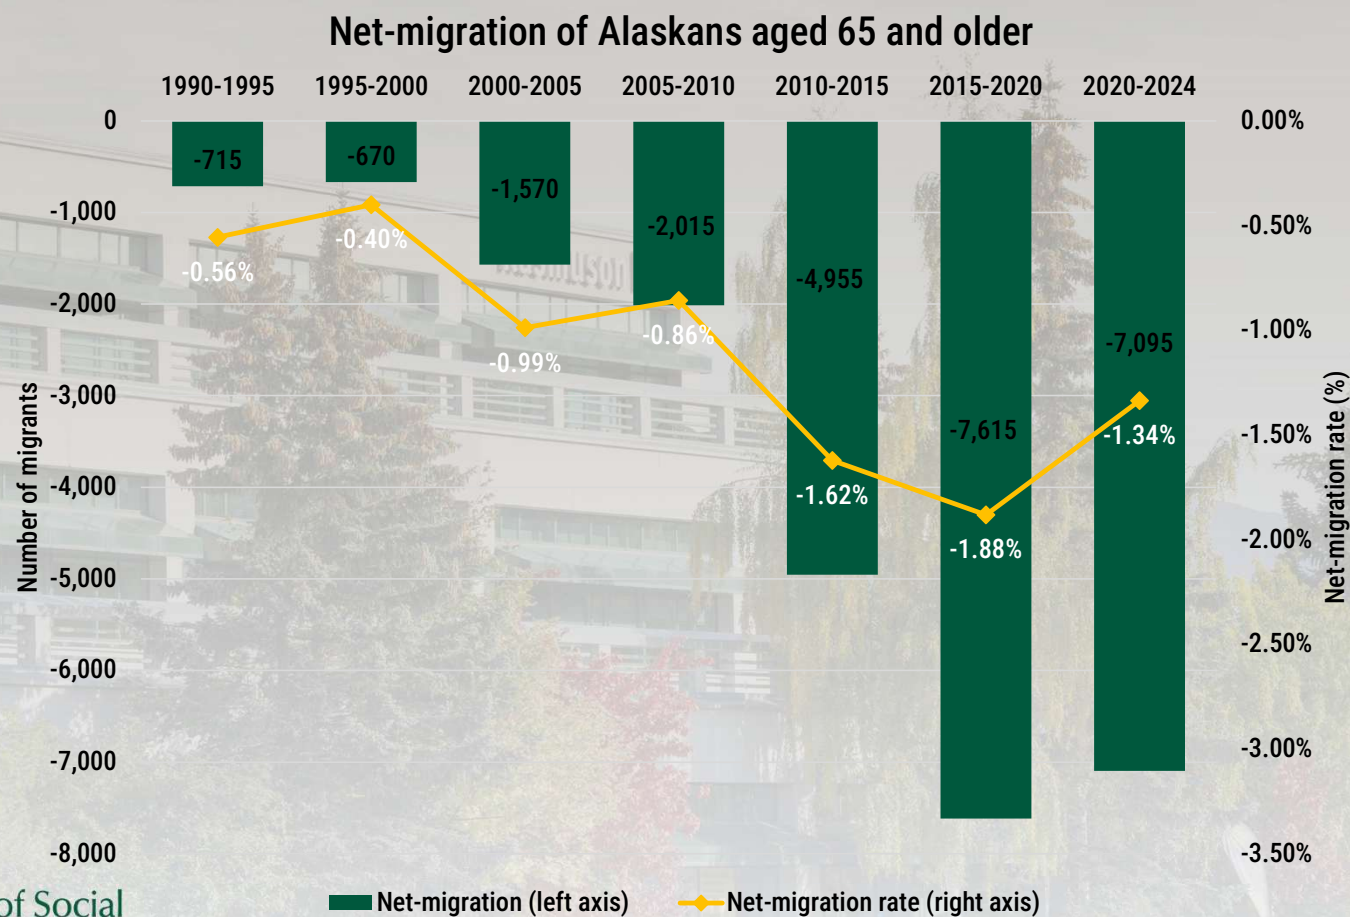

Source: Kaiser Family Foundation

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

But an Aging Population Presents New Challenges

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

Source: Alaska Department of Labor

But an Aging Population Presents New Challenges

Trends in Dual-Eligibility for Medicare and Medicaid

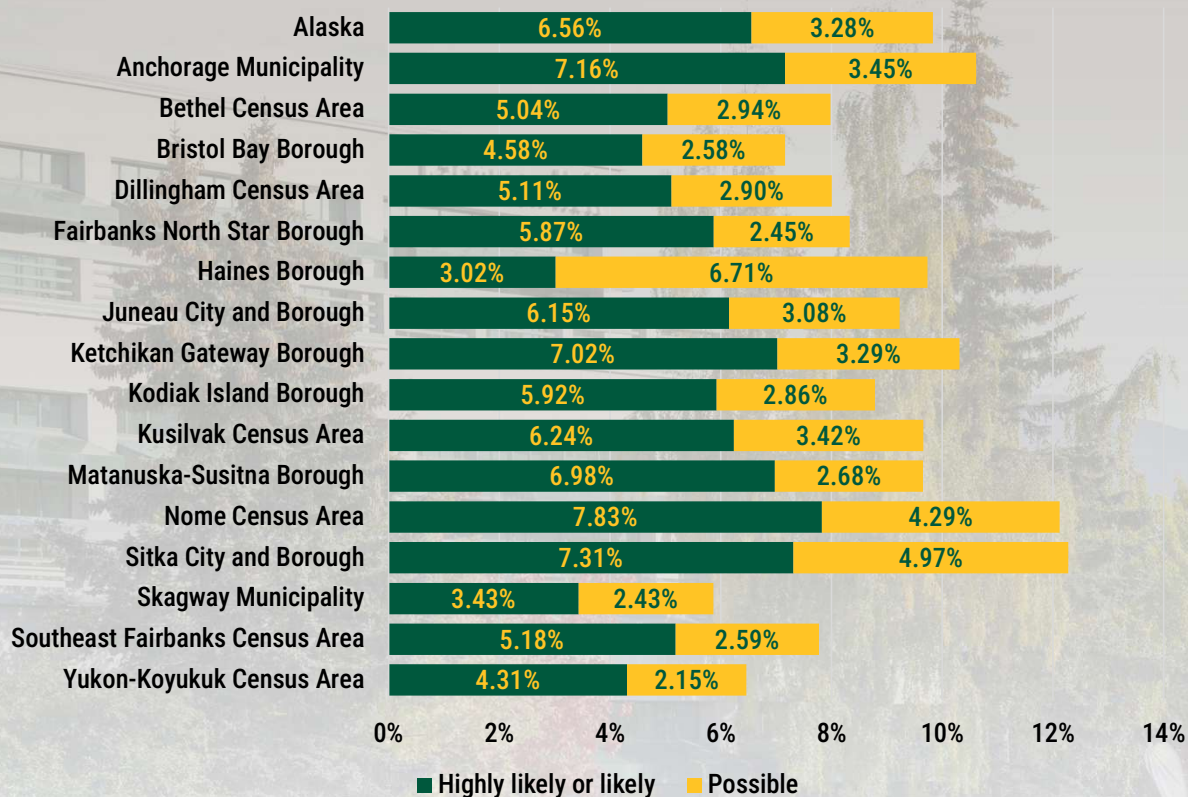

Source: U.S. Census Bureau's American Community Survey

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

But an Aging Population Presents New Challenges

Share of Medicare Beneficiaries with ADRD (2021)

Source: NORC at the University of Chicago Dementia Datahub

UAA Institute of Social
and Economic Research
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE